

Join the Passaic Valley UNICO for a Holiday Treat in Bethlehem, PA, Saturday, Dec. 5

Get a head start on the holidays by joining the Passaic Valley UNICO and other groups in visiting "Christmas City" (otherwise known as Bethlehem, PA) on Saturday, Dec. 5. Enjoy traditional holiday arts & crafts, great food, shopping for interesting gifts, and a traditional Moravian Christmas celebration.

The bus leaves from Clifton City Hall at 8 a.m., Nutley Public Library at 8:30; and 560 Sylvan Ave. (Rte. 9W) in Englewood Cliffs at 9. Other stops may be added if needed. The $78 per person fee includes transportation, admissions, and a donation to the Passaic Valley UNICO. Reservations and payment are due no later than September 20, 2009.

The first stop is at The Banana Factory, Bethlehem's community art center and gallery, which recognizes the importance of the visual arts and has dedicated itself to promoting and sharing them with everyone, regardless of background.

Recognized as one of the top holiday markets anywhere, Christkindlmarkt Bethlehem features aisles of handmade works by the nation's finest artisans, live holiday music, authentic German and Austrian food, and much more.

Learn about early Moravians in Bethlehem and their interactions with Native Americans as they share the true meaning of Christmas. This show features Moravian figures, Mainstreet Brass, and the Central Moravian Church Choir, as well as glorious sounds from the Moller pipe organ. We'll also be visiting the Moravian Bookstore next door, the world's oldest operating bookshop.
